

Tommy Tingle seems like the laziest person on the planet and he is

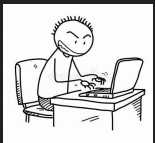

He spends most of his time and work when he is not sleeping playing on his computer.

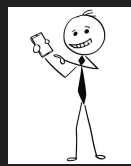

Constantly ordering things online, he uses his credit card all day. But one day, he loses it.

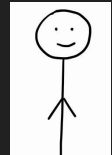

Not able to buy anything or do his job, he spirals in panic and fear. He searches all over the web for ideas to help.

He comes across this app that saves your info and keeps it secure from outside websites. All he has to do is download it on his phone that is always on him.

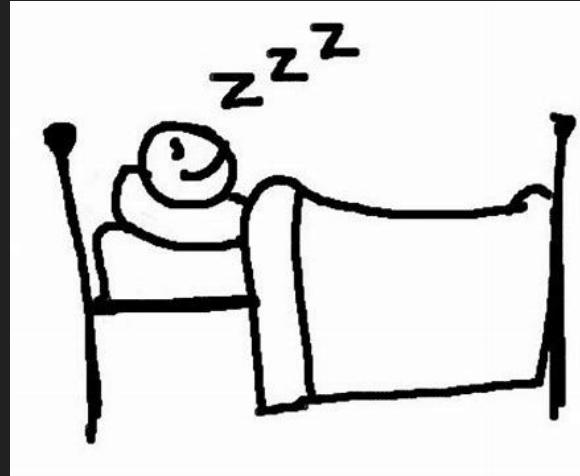

Tommy downloaded the Identification Tracker app and now has control over his bank account and never has to worry about losing his credit card again.
